February

Jun He

Beijing, China

"The famous 17-Arch Bridge in Summer Palace in Beijing. The architect designed the bridge direction according to the sunset position in the midwinter days. So at sunset the sun will light all 17 holes of the bridge, called 'Golden Sun Through the Holes.'"

March

Manoj Kumar

Gurgaon, India

"We were on a family picnic in a farmhouse in Aravali Hills when we came across this majestic bird. You can see why in India it is called the 'King of Birds.'"

April

George Reiner

Wilmington, Delaware

"While walking with my wife at Longwood Gardens, I came across this solitary yellow tulip in a bed of red ones. I sought to isolate the delicate features of this flower that was daring to show its differences among the many conforming ones."

May

Ji Su

June

July

Thian-Chang Tan

Penang, Malaysia

"A couple walking their dog during sunset at the tidal flat of Gaomei Wetlands, Taichung, Taiwan."

October

November

Mark Pfeiffer

"One of the iconic sights at Zion National Park in Utah is The Watchman. This towering red spire sits near the entrance of the park and is beautifully illuminated by the setting sun."
